

IBO OA.1161

Qian, Wang, ‘Bolin pipan qimeng picuole?’ [‘Is Berlin’s critique of the Enlightenment incorrect?’], Sixiang [Reflection] no. 26 (October 2014), 275–88

Summary

The paper reports on the conference on ‘Isaiah Berlin’s Enlightenment’ held 20–22 March 2014 at Wolfson College, Oxford, focusing on the presentations by Jeremy Waldron, T. J. Reed, Michael Ignatieff and Hermione Lee. The paper also discusses whether the Enlightenment is still relevant to China: in recent times many Chinese scholars have drawn critical attention to the problems raised by the Enlightenment, arguing that it is an outdated idea for China; the author nevertheless defends study of the Enlightenment.